ADAMH Public School Investments:

Research shows that 1 in 5 youth have a diagnosable mental health disorder. Only 20% of those receive treatment. We also know that 50% of lifetime mental health disorders start by age 14. Early identification and intervention is essential for positive outcomes.

The Alcohol, Drug and Mental Health Board of Franklin County has partnered with all of the public school districts in Franklin County to provide prevention, early intervention and treatment services to students by providing funding for certified mental health and addiction providers to be available for support in each district.

Directions for Youth and Families (DFYF) provides youth in select elementary, middle, intermediate and high schools within the South-Western City School District with prevention and mental health counseling services. School principals at each school refer students in their building who may benefit from services to DFYF, who then helps these youth build resiliency and social emotional skills. DFYF also provides support for students in immediate crisis and facilitates prevention groups for students to enhance social emotional learning skills. Through this partnership, ADAMH aims to reduce the incidents of mental health disorders and the onset of substance use in youth.
